HISTORICAL ICON IN THE HEART OF THE CITY OF LIGHTS

WELCOME TO LYON

InterContinental Lyon, located in the heart of the city's most magnificent historic monument, has been welcoming thousands of international visitors to the Grand-Hôtel Dieu since the Middle Ages. Known for treating the sick, this former hospital was highly regarded throughout France and Europe, and even welcomed famous doctors such as François Rabelais.

Today, the Grand Hôtel-Dieu has been given a new lease of life in a setting of refined luxury. Its façade and Grand Dôme, designed by Jacques-Germain Soufflot in the 18th century, blend with the interior design by Jean-Philippe Nuel, one of the great international names in prestigious hotel design.

OUR SERVICES

Located on the ground floor of the InterContinental Lyon – Hotel Dieu, Epona restaurant takes its name from an extremely popular goddess in Gallo-Roman religion, patron saint of horseriding and travel.

Chef Mathieu Charrois offers tastes and flavors from both past and present in an intimate setting, working with seasonal products. One of his iconic dishes is the K'nelle, a modernized version of the regional specialty with a new crispy dimension.

On sunny days, the restaurant extends to its splendid and tranquil garden terrace, reminiscent of a serene cloister, situated in the historic courtyard Saint-Louis, which was once the medicinal garden of the Grand Hôtel-Dieu.

The Epona restaurant is open every day for breakfast, lunch, and dinner.
